PRESENTS

The Importance of Executive Function and Study Habits that Stick

May 6th, 2026 from 6:00-6:45 via GoToWebinar

Join us for an engaging and informative presentation hosted by Melinda Giampietro, Options President/Founder, and Kate Williamson, Options lead executive function coach. We will discuss practical strategies students can use to build effective study habits, improve time management, and develop the skills needed for lasting academic success. We will also discuss how parents can best support their children and how to help them navigate their executive function weaknesses.
